Brazos De Los Andes (Mendoza) – www.familiazuccardi.com

'Brazos' means 'The River of the Arms of God' refers to the view of the Uco Valley from above. The arms of the rivers were formed thousands of years ago, when the ancient glaciers that crowned the Andes melted and formed rivers that flowed down the mountain. As a result of these floods, these soils contain high amount of stones and even large rocks, rich in minerals, which is one of the many reasons why the Uco Valley is considered one of the best areas in the world for quality viticulture.

Over the decades, improvements included wrapping its bottles in gold netting to thwart forgeries. Today Marqués de Riscal holds true to Rioja traditions while also offering new wines that show their innovation.

The Pere Magloire brand is owned by Debris-Debulac which was established in 1821. Calvados is named after a rock located off Arromanches. One legend suggests the name comes from Calva Dorsa, 'bald backs' in Latin, a name found on old sea charts that refers to two strips of bare land that navigators used to take their bearings. Although distillation of apple brandy has been documented in Normandy as early as 1553, Calvados did not become an official appellation until 1942.

anCnoc – www.ancnoc.com / Twitter: @anCnoc_whisky anCnoc is a rather curious whisky. You see, this fine single malt is created using traditional production methods. It's just that we use them to make a refreshingly modern whisky. The end result is a lighter tasting single malt that doesn't compromise on quality.

Balblair – www.balblair.com / Twitter: @balblairwhisky

Welcome to the idyllic coast of the Dornoch Firth, the home of Balblair. It's here, since we rolled out our first barrels in 1790, that we've been producing award-winning Highland Single Malt whisky. You'll notice our bottles are not marked with an age statement, but simply with the year that the whisky was laid down. Every year, the casks are sampled, judged and selected by Distiller Manager, John MacDonald to find its optimum maturation point. That's why we only create Vintages timed to perfection.

MacArthur's

James MacArthur established MacArthur's blend in 1982 with the aim of selecting whiskeys from Scottish distilleries which were either not well known or had stopped working. James wanted to introduce whiskey drinkers to distilleries they may never had heard of.

Old Pulteney – www.oldpulteney.com / Twitter: @OldPulteneyMalt

The Old Pulteney distillery in Wick is one of the most northerly distilleries on the Scottish mainland. It is a windswept location, where the uncompromising landscape of the Highlands meets the North Sea, and the wave's crash against the granite walls of the harbour. The extreme location and unique stills have resulted in a distinctive flavour, bursting with the power and subtlety of the sea.
