Cambas Wines

Founded in the late 19th century by Andreas Cambas, this winery has a long and distinguished history in Greece. In 1992, Cambas winery was purchased by Boutari and as part of the Boutari portfolio. Like Feta cheese, Greek salad and stuffed grape leaves, Ouzo is a Greek export that almost anyone associates exclusively and immediately with its home country. So many good things in the culinary world were created by monks and Ouzo is classic example of this.

Pere Magloire (Debris Dulac) – www.pere-magloire.com / Twitter: @peremagloire

The Pere Magloire brand is owned by Debris-Debulac which was established in 1821. Calvados is named after a rock located off Arromanches. One legend suggests the name comes from Calva Dorsa, 'bald backs' in Latin, a name found on old sea charts that refers to two strips of bare land that navigators used to take their bearings. Although distillation of apple brandy has been documented in Normandy as early as 1553, Calvados did not become an official appellation until 1942.

anCnoc – www.ancnoc.com / Twitter: @anCnoc_whisky anCnoc is a rather curious whisky. You see, this fine single malt is created using traditional production methods. It's just that we use them to make a refreshingly modern whisky. The end result is a lighter tasting single malt that doesn't compromise on quality.

Balblair – www.balblair.com / Twitter: @balblairwhisky

Welcome to the idyllic coast of the Dornoch Firth, the home of Balblair. It's here, since we rolled out our first barrels in 1790, that we've been producing award-winning Highland Single Malt whisky. You'll notice our bottles are not marked with an age statement, but simply with the year that the whisky was laid down. Every year, the casks are sampled, judged and selected by Distiller Manager, John MacDonald to find its optimum maturation point. That's why we only create Vintages timed to perfection.

The Old Pulteney distillery in Wick is one of the most northerly distilleries on the Scottish mainland. It is a windswept location, where the uncompromising landscape of the Highlands meets the North Sea, and the wave's crash against the granite walls of the harbour. The extreme location and unique stills have resulted in a distinctive flavour, bursting with the power and subtlety of the sea.
